Medical.

Hoofland's German Bitters,
AND
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.
The Great Remedies for all Diseases of the LIVER, STOMACH, OR DIGESTIVE ORGANS.

Hoofland's German Bitters

Is composed of the pure juices (or, as they are medicinally termed, Extracts) of Roots, Herbs, and Barks, making a preparation, highly concentrated, and entirely free from alcoholic admixture of any kind.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC,

Is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters with the purest quality of Santa Cruz Rum, Orange, &c., making one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public.

Those preferring a Medicine free from Alcoholic admixture, will use

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

Those who have no objection to the combination of the Bitters, as stated, will use

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.

They are both equally good, and contain the same medicinal virtues, the choice between the two being a mere matter of taste, the Tonic being the most palatable.

The stomach, from a variety of causes, such as Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, etc., is very apt to have its functions deranged. The Liver, sympathising as closely as it does with the Stomach, then becomes affected, the result of which is that the patient suffers from several or more of the following diseases:

Constipation, Flatulence, Inward Piles, Fullness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heart-burn, Disgust for Food, Fulness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried or Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a Lying Posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the Sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, etc., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil, and Great Depression of Spirits.

The sufferer from these diseases should exercise the greatest caution in the selection of a remedy for his case, purchasing only that which he is assured from his investigations and inquiries possesses true merit, is skilfully compounded, is free from injurious ingredients, and has established for itself a reputation for the cure of these diseases. In this connection we would submit those well-known remedies—

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS,
AND
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.
PREPARED BY Dr. C. M. JACKSON,
PHILADELPHIA, PA

Twenty-two years since they were first introduced into this country from Germany, during which time they have undoubtedly performed more cures, and benefited suffering humanity to a greater extent, than any other remedies known to the public.

These remedies will effectually cure Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Chronic or Nervous Debility, Chronic Diarrhœa, Disease of the Kidneys, and all Diseases arising from a Disordered Liver, Stomach, or Intestines.

DEBILITY,

Resulting from any Cause whatever; PROSTRATION OF THE SYSTEM, induced by Severe Labor, Hardships, Exposure, Fevers, etc.

There is no medicine extant equal to these remedies in such cases. A tone and vigor is imparted to the whole system, the appetite is strengthened, food is enjoyed, the stomach digests promptly, the blood is purified, the complexion becomes sound and healthy, the yellow tinge is eradicated from the eyes, a bloom is given to the cheeks, and the weak and nervous invalid becomes a strong and healthy being.

PERSONS ADVANCED IN LIFE,

And feeling the hand of time weighing heavily upon them, with all its attendant ills, will find in the use of this BITTERS, or the TONIC, an elixir that will instil new life into their veins, restore in a measure the energy and ardor of more youthful days, build up their shrunken forms, and give health and happiness to their remaining years.

NOTICE.

It is a well-established fact that fully one-half of the female portion of our population are seldom in the enjoyment of good health; or, to use their own expression, "never feel well." They are languid, devoid of all energy, extremely nervous, and have no appetite.

To this class of persons the BITTERS, or the TONIC, is especially recommended.

WEAK AND DELICATE CHILDREN

Are made strong by the use of either of these remedies. They will cure every case of MARASMUS, without fail.

Thousands of certificates have accumulated in the hands of the proprietor, but space will allow of the publication of but a few. Those, it will be observed, are men of note and of such standing that they must be believed.

TESTIMONIALS.

HON. GEO. W. WOODWARD,
Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Penna., writes:
Philadelphia, March 16, 1867.

"I find 'Hoofland's German Bitters' is a good tonic, useful in diseases of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in cases of debility, and want of nervous action in the system. Yours, truly,
GEO. W. WOODWARD."

HON. JAMES THOMPSON,
Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.
Philadelphia, April 28, 1866.

"I consider 'Hoofland's German Bitters' a valuable medicine in case of attacks of Indigestion or Dyspepsia, I can certify this from my experience of it.
Yours, with respect,
JAMES THOMPSON."

FROM REV. JOSEPH H. KENNARD, D. D.,
Pastor of the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia.

Dr. Jackson—Dear Sir:—I have been frequently requested to connect my name with recommendations of different kinds of medicines, but regarding the practice as out of my appropriate sphere, I have in all cases declined; but with a clear proof in various instances and particularly in my own family, of the usefulness of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, I depart for once from my usual course, to express my full conviction that, for general debility of the system, and especially for Liver Complaint, it is a safe and valuable preparation. In some cases it may fail; but usually, I doubt not, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes.
Yours, very respectfully,
J. H. KENNARD,
Eighth, below Coates st.

FROM REV. E. D. FENDALL,
Assistant Editor Christian Chronicle, Philadelphia.

I have derived decided benefit from the use of Hoofland's German Bitters, and feel it my privilege to recommend them as a most valuable tonic, to all who are suffering from general debility or from diseases arising from derangement of the liver. Yours, truly,
E. D. FENDALL.

The Star and Sentinel.

THE FLAG OF WASHINGTON.

Dear banner of my native land! ye gleaming, silver stars,
Broad, spotless ground of purity, crossed with your azure bars—
Clasp'd by the hero-father's hand—watch'd over in his might,
Through battle-hour and day of peace, bright morn and moonless night,
Because, within your clustering folds, he knew you surely bore
Dear Freedom's hope for human souls to every sea and shore!
Oh precious Flag! beneath whose folds such noble deeds are done—
The dear old Flag! the starry Flag! the Flag of Washington!

Unfurl, bright stripes—shine forth, clear stars—swing outward to the breeze—
Go bear the message to the wilds—go tell it on the seas,
That poor men sit within your shade, and rich men in their pride—
That beggar boys and statesmen's sons walk 'neath you, side by side;
You guard the school-house on the green, the church upon the hill,
And fold your precious blessings 'round the cabin by the rill,
While weary hearts from every land beneath the shining sun
Find work, and rest, and home, beneath the Flag of Washington.

And never, never on the earth, however brave they be,
Shall friends or foes bear down this great, proud standard of the Free,
Though they around its staff may pour the red blood in rushing waves,
And build beneath its starry folds great pyramids of graves;
For God looks out, with sleepless eye, upon His children's deeds,
And sees, through all their good and ill, their sufferings and their needs;
And He will watch, and He will keep, 'till human rights have won,
The dear old Flag! the starry Flag! the Flag of Washington!

WHO RUNG THAT BELL.

That there is a sleepless Providence watching over all the affairs of men, and often by special agencies, bringing to light, as in the flash of a moment, the crimes which they commit, finds additional confirmation in an event which has recently occurred in Enfield, Conn., and which merits a more permanent record than a mere passing thought. A young man belonging to one of our most respectable families, but who, from his irregular habits, had been strongly suspected of being guilty of criminal offences, and been once under arrest for passing counterfeit currency, and escaped bo forfeiting his bonds, on Sunday night, a few weeks since, broke into a store at Hazardville, and loaded a wagon, which he had previously stolen and drawn to the door, with various merchandise. He then entered a stable, and attempted to lead out a valuable horse owned by the man from whom he had stolen the goods, intending to harness it to the wagon, and make off with his booty in the stillness of the night, when he thought no eye could see him and no ear hear him. Just at that moment, however, the bell from the village church tower sounded out an alarm loud and clear upon the night air, startling the inhabitants from their slumbers, who, supposing it to be a fire alarm, rushed into the street, and caught the thief with his plunder, before he had time to escape from the village.

The ringing of that bell, however, was a mystery. But upon inquiry, it was ascertained that the sexton, in ringing the bell for the service the day previous, had by a seeming accident, so turned it up and set it, that he could not pull it down with the rope, and not having a key to the belfry door, he was obliged to let the bell remain in that position. Just in time to detect that youthful criminal it came down without human help, and sounded that midnight alarm. After his arrest, goods were found in his possession, which were taken from a store in Thompsonville a short time previously; and he confessed that with the aid of an accomplice, he had broken into it and stolen several hundred dollars' worth of merchandise. The owner of these goods had formerly employed him as a clerk in his store. Thus the ringing of that bell, without human hands, brought several criminal offences to light, and arrested the offender in his dishonest career.—Central Presbyterian.

INFLUENCE OF NEWSPAPERS ON CHILDREN.—A school teacher who had enjoyed the benefit of a long practice of his profession, and had watched closely the influence of newspapers upon the minds of a family of children, states as the result of his observation that, without exception, those scholars of both sexes and all ages who have access to newspapers at home, when compared with those who have not, are:

1. Better readers, excellent in pronunciation, and consequently read more understandingly.

2. They are better spellers, and define words with ease and accuracy.

3. They obtain partial knowledge in geography in almost half the time it requires others, as the newspaper has made them familiar with the location of important places and nations, their governments and doings.

4. They are better grammarians; for, having become so familiar with every variety of style in the newspaper, from common-place advertisements to the finished and classical oration of the statesman, they more readily comprehend the meaning of the text, and consequently analyze its construction with accuracy.

5. They write better compositions, using better language, containing more thoughts, still more clearly expressed.

From these simple facts three important things can be deduced:

1. The responsibility of the press in supplying literature which shall be both healthful in tone and likewise understandingly expressed.

2. The absolute necessity of personal supervision of a child's reading by his parents.

3. Having once got a good, able paper, no matter what the price, don't begrudge it a hearty support.

A HARD HIT.—Said an old preacher once: "Fellow-sinners, if you were told that by going to the top of those stairs yonder, (pointing to a rickety pair of stairs at the end of the church,) you might secure your eternal salvation, I really hardly believe any of you would try it. But let any man proclaim that there were five dollars in gold for you, and I'll be bound there would be such a getting up stairs as you never did see."

A GOOD old woman was asked, upon her death-bed, if she was comfortable in her mind. "Very far from it," she answered.—"Then you are not willing to die?" "Quite willing," she said. "If my father chooses to put me to bed in the dark, I can trust him; it will be all right in the morning."

NOT GOOD ENOUGH FOR HER.

In the days of the good colony of Virginia, the distinctions between rich and poor were based upon laws which, like those of the Medes and Persians, altered not. One of the most devout followers of this code was a wealthy planter, living in what is known as the Northern Neck. He was in all other respects a frank, open-hearted, manly gentleman; but his estimate of his fellow men was founded upon the principles that governed his selection of his horses—blood. Wealth, too, was by no means an unimportant feature with him. He had our human weakness, and, like all of us, was influenced more than he even believed by pounds, shillings and pence.

This Mr. G——— had quite a large family, and among them was a daughter whose beauty was the standing toast of the country. She was just eighteen, and budding into lovely womanhood. Not only was she beautiful in person, but her amiable disposition and many accomplishments made her more than ordinarily attractive, and half the gentlemen of the Northern Neck were already sighing for her love.

There was in the country at this time a young man who was already rising high in the estimation of his neighbors. He came of a good family, but was, as yet, a poor young surveyor, who had taught himself his profession, and who had spent much of his time in traversing unknown forests, with nothing but his compass for a guide, and his chain for his companion, locating lands and settling disputed titles. He was a model of manly beauty, and excelled in all the varied feats of strength in which the olden-time Americans took such pride. He was calm and reserved, and there was about him a dignified sweetness of demeanor that accorded well with his frank independence of character. He was a great favorite with all who knew him, and there was no gathering to which he was not asked.

Mr. G——— seemed especially to like the young man, and it was not long before he insisted that the latter should abandon all ceremony in his visits to him, and come and go when he pleased. The invitation was heartily given, and as promptly accepted. The young man liked the planter, and he found the society of the beautiful Mary G——— a very strong attraction. The result was that he was frequently at the planter's residence; so frequently, indeed, that Mrs. G——— felt called upon to ask her husband if he did not think it wrong to permit him to enjoy such unreserved intercourse with his daughter.—Father only laughed at the idea, and said he hoped his daughter knew her position too well to allow anything like love for a poor surveyor to blind her to her duty to her family.

Nevertheless, Mary G——— was not so fully impressed with this conviction of duty as was her father. She found more to admire in the poor surveyor than in all her wealthy and aristocratic suitors, and almost before she knew it her heart passed out of her keeping, and was given to him. She loved him with all the honesty and devotion of her pure heart; and she would have thought it a happiness to go with him into the backwoods to share his fatigues and troubles, no matter how much sorrow they might bring to her.

Nor did she love in vain. The young man, whose knowledge of the world was afterwards so great, had not then learned to consider as binding the distinctions which society drew between his position and that of the lady. He knew that in all that makes a man, in integrity and honesty of purpose, he was equal to any one. He believed that, except in wealth, he stood upon perfect equality with Mary G———, and he loved her honestly and manfully, and no sooner had he satisfied himself upon the state of his own feeling than he confessed his devotion, simply and truthfully, and received from the lady's lips the assurance that she loved him very dearly.

Scorning to occupy a doubtful position, or to cause the lady to conceal aught from her parents, the young man frankly and manfully asked Mr. G——— for his daughter. Very angry grew the planter as he listened to the audacious proposal. He stormed and swore furiously, and denounced the young man as an ungrateful and insolent upstart.

"My daughter has always been accustomed to riding in her own carriage," he said.—"Who are you, sir!"

"A gentleman, sir," replied the young man, quietly; and he left the house.

The lovers were parted. The lady married soon after a wealthy planter, and the young man went out again into the world to battle with his heart and conquer his unhappy passion. He subdued it; but, although he afterwards married a woman whom he loved honestly and truthfully, and was worthy of his love, he was never wholly dead to his first love.

The time passed on, and the young man began to reap the reward of his labors. He had never been to the house of Mr. G——— since his cruel repulse by the planter; but the latter could not forget him, as his name soon became familiar in every Virginia household. Higher and higher he rose every year, until he gained a position from which he could look down upon the proud planter. Wealth came to him, too. When the great struggle for Independence dawned, he was in his prime, a happy husband, and one of the most distinguished men in America. The struggle went on, and soon the "poor surveyor" held the highest and proudest position in the land.

When the American army passed in triumph through the streets of Williamsburg, the ancient capitol of Virginia, after the surrender of Cornwallis, the officer riding at the head of the column chanced to glance up at one of the neighboring balconies, which was crowded with ladies. Recognizing one of them, he raised his hat and bowed profoundly. There was a commotion in the balcony, and some one called for water, saying Mrs. Lee had fainted. Turning to a young man who rode near him, the officer said gravely, "Henry, I fear your mother has fainted. You had better leave the column, and go to her."

The speaker was George Washington, once the "poor surveyor," but then Commander-in-Chief of the armies of the United States. The young man was Colonel Henry Lee, the commander of the famous "Light Cavalry Legion." The lady was his mother, and formerly Miss G———, "the belle of the Northern Neck."

"WHY does the operation of hanging kill a man?" inquired Dr. Whately. A physiologist replied, "Because inspiration is checked, circulation stopped, and blood suffuses and congests the brain." "Bosh!" replied his Grace. "It is because the rope is not long enough to let his feet touch the ground."

MR. PULLUP, coming home late, "pretty full," finds the walking very slippery, and he exclaims: V-y-very sing'lar, whenever water freezes it allus freezes with the slippery side up. Sing'lar."

A YOUNG man generally gives a lock of his hair to a sweetheart before he marries her.—After marriage she can help herself—and use no scissors.

QUAILS IN THE DESERT.

It is very pleasing to find how strongly modern travellers confirm the account given in Scripture of the great number of quails found by the children of Israel in the wilderness, and the mode of drying them for food.

"And there went forth a wind from the Lord, and brought quails from the sea, and let them fall by the camp, as it were a day's journey on this side, and as it were a day's journey on the other side, round about the camp, and as it were two cubits high upon the face of the earth. And the people stood up all that day, and all that night, and all the next day, and they gathered the quails: he that gathered least gathered ten homers: and they spread them all abroad for themselves round about the camp." (Num. xi 31, 32.)

Their coming with the wind,—their immense number, covering a circle of thirty or forty miles across,—and their being spread in the sun for drying, appeared so unlikely to one learned writer on the Bible, that he was persuaded our translation of the word "quail" must be wrong, and that locusts were meant instead.

Here, however, let us see the testimony of a credible eye-witness. Mr. Slade says: "Near Constantinople, in the autumn, the sun is often nearly hidden by the flights of quails, which alight on the coast of the Black Sea, near the Bosphorus. They are caught by means of nets spread on high poles, planted along the cliff, some yards from its edge, against which the birds, wearied by their passage over the sea, strike themselves, and fall. In October, 1829, the Sultan sent orders to his admirals to catch four hundred dozens.—In three days they were brought to him alive, in small cages."

It is stated that such numbers were once caught in Capri, in Italy, as to have yielded the bishop of the place no small part of his income; and that, in consequence, he has been called the "Bishop of Quails."

Another traveller, Mr. Madden, tells us that "the quails visit Egypt in immense flights about harvest-time, where the Arabs take them in nets by thousands. They fly in a straight line from north to south; very rarely from east to west."

With respect to their being dried in the sun for food we have equally good evidence from the French traveller Maillet, who says, "There is a small island off the coast of Egypt, where these birds usually alight in the autumn.—They are there taken in such quantities, that, after having been stripped of their feathers, and dried in the burning sands for about a quarter of an hour, they are worth but a penny a pound. The crews of those vessels which, in that season, lie in the adjoining harbor, have no other food allowed them." The object of the Israelites, therefore, in "spreading them round about the camp," was to dry them; a mode of preparing fish and camel's flesh still practised by the Arabs in the same country. Another difficulty which the learned man, of whom we have spoken, felt, was in their having been so thickly strewed as to form a solid mass of "two cubits high upon the face of the earth." But the Jewish historian Josephus, whom we must allow to have been a good judge of the meaning of words in Scripture, explains the passage by saying that it merely meant that the quails flew within reach of the people, about two cubits from the ground. And this, in fact, these birds often do, when they have been long on the wing; and they are then knocked dowd with sticks by the Arabs.

HAVING A LITTLE FUN WITH THE BOYS.—We have recently heard a good story—good only as it represents the moral condition of Oshkosh society. A minister from a neighboring town started to go over there one day last week, on a kind of missionary enterprise. He drove his own team and when within about six miles of the end of his journey he met a man limping along with the blood running down one side of his face. The minister asked him if that was the road to Oshkosh.—"Yes, you are on the right road, I just come from there. I've been up there having a little fun with the boys." About two miles further on he met another man, one arm in a sling, one eye badly bunged, and his clothing in a badly dilapidated condition. "How far is it to Oshkosh?" asked the minister. "Only [h-i-c] five m miles," answered the pitiable object, "Oshkosh is a live town; I've just been up there having a little fun with the boys."—With a sad heart the minister drove on, falling into a reverie on the depravity of man in general and the Oshkoshians in particular, when he suddenly came upon a man sitting by the side of the road. One leg was sprained, one ear had been bitten off, and seated by the side of a puddle of water he was seeking relief by bathing the parts affected. The minister was perfectly awe struck. Stopping his horse, he enquired of the man what terrible accident had befallen him. "Oh not any at all," faintly responded the bleeding wreck, "I have only just been up to Oshkosh having a little fun with the boys." "I suppose you mean by that that you have been engaged in some brutalizing fight," said the minister. "Yes," said the man, "I have heard that's what they call it down at Fond du Lac, where they are civilized, but they don't call it by that name up at Oshkosh. There they call it having a little fun with the boys." "What do you suppose your wife will say when she sees you?" asked the reverend gentleman. At this the man looked up with a sardonic smile. Putting his remaining well hand into a pocket he pulled out a piece of nose, a large lock of hair, to which a part of the scalp was attached, and a piece of flesh he had bitten from the cheek of his opponent, and holding them out for the minister's inspection growled out, "There, what do you suppose his wife will say, when she sees him?" This was a squelcher. As anxious as the minister was to overcome sin and do good, he was not yet prepared to invade the Devil's stronghold, and turning around, he returned home. The next time he starts on a missionary enterprise to the frontier town of Oshkosh, he will take good care not to go alone. He likes a little fun now and then, but he don't care about having it "with the boys."

THE CHARACTERISTIC AMERICAN BOOK.

PARIS, Oct. 12, 1867.

Those of your readers who are endowed with a literary taste will learn with interest that American typography is well represented by another triumph of the Riverside Press in the shape of a superbly bound copy of the last edition of Webster's Dictionary. Like the "Notes on Columbus," this is incomparable in its way, and there is no other work of the kind at the Exhibition which even comes near it. I have never taken any part in the warfare which has so long raged between the great lexicographical W's and care not a straw whether "traveller" is spelt with one l or two, but I cannot refrain, at the sight of a monument of the printer's skill so express and admirable, from offering my hearty, and let me add, unsolicited commendation. I regard it, every time I enter our department, with a truly patriotic glow at the thought of its superiority to anything of that kind which the publishers or printers of England or France have produced. It is now considered throughout the continent of Europe, not only the authority par excellence in English lexicography, but as the characteristic American book. It is better known and more widely circulated than any other. I have met with it at the Imperial Library in Paris, the Library of the British Museum, the Athenæum and other London Clubs, and numerous other places. I have heard of it from Turkey, India, China, and even Japan. It is everywhere deservedly applauded for the elegance of its type, the distinctness of its impression, the beauty of the engravings, and the vast amount of information condensed within its covers. To the great talents of Dr. Webster it is in its present state a noble and meritorious offering. When I look back upon the first edition and think of the small beginnings from which it sprang, and of the solitary love and undaunted zeal with which its author laid the foundation of so noble a structure, I cannot check, nor would I if I could, the flow of my esteem for a character thus bold and reliant, and so worthy an effluence of our New England institutions. Like Columbus, when he began his labors, he embarked upon an almost unknown sea, and like him was sustained and soothed by an unfaltering trust and the consecration to God of all his better part of man. I stopped the other day to peruse anew that sentence in the perface to the edition of 1828, wherein Dr. Webster, in words of humble devotion and earnest ardor, declares anew his allegiance to God, and his thankfulness for the Divine encouragement during his long and arduous labors. When I first read this, years ago, it made an indelible mark upon my memory.—I will venture to give it here, feeling sure that it may still be the source of profit;

"To that great and benevolent Being, who, during the preparation of this work, has sustained a feeble constitution, amidst obstacles and toils, disappointments, infirmities and depression, who has borne me and my manuscripts in safety across the Atlantic, and given me strength and resolution to bring the work to a close—I would present the tribute of my most grateful acknowledgments. And if the talent which He intrusted to my care has not been put to the most profitable use in his service, I hope it has not been 'kept laid up in a napkin,' and that any misapplication of it may be graciously forgiven."

It is God alone that giveth the increase, and it would seem that the Divine aid which thus supported Doctor Webster had been continued, until the talent he so meekly tendered to his Maker has in our day been augmented with abundant usury for the benefit of the world.

The medal which has been granted to Webster's Dictionary was richly merited, both through the value of the work itself and the patriotic energy of the Messrs. Merriams, of Springfield, who published it, and who had the grace to look after the interests of our country at the Great Exhibition when most other houses of this class thought it not worth their while so to do. It is another example of that liberal and far-sighted management, which, no less than the intrinsic worth of the Dictionary, has aided in securing its present wide spread reputation. Whether this be the result of pride in the task they have thus taken upon themselves, philanthropic interest in a department which really concerns humanity at large, or considerations of business profit;—and it doubtless arises from all of these combined—its publishers deserve well of their county, for they have done much to increase its celebrity both at home and abroad. In the accuracy, taste and good judgment of the Riverside Press they have found able coadjutors, and through the labors of both publishers and printers, Webster's Dictionary has attained to its present high position. It has already taken a prominent part in moulding the English language and aiding the advance of its evergrowing empire. This result must, of course, follow from the use of a work that is found wherever our tongue is extending, as it rapidly is through commerce and trade, among the Eastern nations. As now appears, there is no limit to its progress, and the vigilant thrift and untiring industry of the Anglo-Saxon race will insure the spread of its speech wherever their sails brighten the sluggish waters of a foreign harbor. If the language of the Bible and of Shakspeare, of Burke and Macaulay, do not deteriorate in our mouths and in the utterance of those who deal with us, it will be largely owing to the onerous labors of the great Lexicographer, and the diligence of those who have so widely disseminated the evidence thereof. A FORTUNE FOR A KINDNESS.—During "Price's raid in 1864, a skirmish took place on the line of Chariton and Howard counties, some four miles from Glasgow, in which one of the rebels was left on the ground dangerously wounded in the neck. While in this condition, Miss Sarah J. Smith, a school teacher in the vicinity, happened to pass by. Seeing the wounded man, she went to him and staunched his wounds, probably saving his life. She remained with him until near nightfall, when he requested her to leave, as his companions would probably come in the night and take him away. If not, she would find him where he was in the morning, living or dead. He said he was known by the name of Tucker, but his real name was H. C. McDonald, and that he was from Louisville, Ky. Next morning McDonald was gone, and Miss Smith knew nothing concerning him afterwards. A few days ago, Miss Smith (who still resides in the neighborhood) received a letter from the administrators of H. C. McDonald, Sr., informing her that she was named in the will of the deceased as the legatee of $50,000, in consideration of her having saved the life of his nephew and only heir, the H. C. McDonald named in connection with the incident of 1864. This is all the story, and its correctness is fully endorsed.

THE reception of Jeff. Davis by the firemen in New Orleans, indicates in a very decided manner the prevalence of rebellious sentiments in that city. Out of thirty-five companies, only six carried the United States flag, while the whole procession cheered vehemently on passing the St. Charles Hotel, the arch-Rebel's headquarters. Gen. Hancock's quarters was saluted by the firemen raising their hats, but the bands played the "Bonnie Blue Flag." Was this intended as a bravado, or as a compliment to Hancock, under the supposition that he favors the traitors? How are the mighty fallen!

SPRING ELECTIONS.

We trust our Republican friends in the several districts will not neglect the township Elections to be held on Friday next. Put good men in nomination for the offices to be filled, and then let every Republican regard it a duty to be at the Polls, to support the nominees. Remember that WALLACE, Chairman of the Copperhead State Committee, a few weeks ago issued a secret circular, urging quiet but effective organization, to secure as many election officers as possible, to control the ballot-box next fall. The idea, in the issue of these secret circulars, is to catch Republicans "napping"—take them by surprise, and thus carry doubtful and contested districts. Fore-warned, fore-armed! Let every Republican be at his post on Friday next. The only way to prevent a repetition next fall of the enormous frauds by which they carried the State last year, is to secure honest and faithful Election officers.

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

In another column we give the proceedings of the Republican State Convention, which met in Philadelphia on Wednesday last. Gen. GRANT was nominated for President by acclamation, and Gov. CURTIN by a nearly unanimous vote was declared to be the choice of Pennsylvania for Vice President. The Convention following the precedents of 1860 and 1864, instructed the delegation to Chicago to vote as a unit, nominated an Electorial Ticket, and appointed a full delegation to the National Convention. JOHN STEWART, Esq., of Chambersburg, is the Elector for this district; and Dr. E. G. FAHNESTOCK, of Gettysburg, and JOHN CESSNA, Esq., of Bedford, delegates, with Dr. DUFFIELD and WM. ADAMS as alternates.

Major General JOHN F. HARTRANFT, the hero of Fort Steadman, was unanimously nominated for re-election as Auditor General; and Col. JACOB M. CAMPBELL, also a gallant soldier, was unanimously nominated for re-election as Surveyor General. Both these gentlemen have honorable war records—both have proved as faithful in civil as in military service—and both will be triumphantly re-elected in October.

The resolutions adopted by the Convention breath the right spirit, and will be cordially endored by every Republican.

A REMARKABLE PROPHECY.

On the 16th of February, 1866, a distinguished clergyman of Washington wrote ANDREW JOHNSON a letter, insisting that there must be—first, a vindication of our Government against the Rebellion by a course of penal justice; and second, equal and exact justice must be done to the freedmen to the extent of wiping out any distinction of color in the enjoyment of the franchises of citizenship; and imploring him to rise to the majesty of this duty.

The letter then proceeds:

> "Nay, more—and this is the presentiment which has haunted me now for days together, and which seems to be like the solemn warning of a melancholy fate—and it is in a fear which takes this shape, namely: that you will not be removed from your high office, as your predecessor was, by assassination, but you will be subjected to a fate far worse than death—the open and everlasting disgrace which will in some way or other, how I know not—but will in some way arise in the inscrutable providence of God. I seem to see the chasm already opening at your feet. Oh, while it is time, I pray you, honored sir, withdraw yourself from the abyss. Look up—look up alone to heaven for help, and the Lord Jehovah will strengthen you from on high."

Six days after this date, JOHNSON responded by his infamous speech from the White House steps, in which he bitterly denounced Congress, and named STEVENS and SUMNER as fit to be hung.—Two years later, the same JOHNSON is on the eve of impeachment, with STEVENS one of the prosecutors and SUMNER one of the jurors. The prophecy is approaching fulfilment, and the hour of JOHNSON'S deposition is near.

THE amendatory reconstruction bill, providing that a majority of votes actually cast at the elections in the Southern States for new State constitutions shall be sufficient to ratify the same, has become a law without the President's signature, he having held the bill for ten days without approval or veto. Had this salutary bill been passed a month ago, it would have saved Alabama, where over 70,000 votes were polled for the new Constitution; but in consequence of a terrible storm and consequent inability of voters to reach the polls, a majority of the registered votes were not polled, and the Constitution was lost—all failing to vote being counted as against ratification. The amendatory act, now a law, remedies the difficulty, and in the elections to come off in the remaining Southern States, the Rebels will be compelled to toe the mark and measure strength with the Union men, or let the elections go by default. Daylight is breaking at last! Arkansas is voting as we write; Florida, South Carolina, North Carolina, Georgia, Louisiana, and the other Southern States will follow in rapid succession. In a few months these erring Commonwealths will have been restored to the Union, despite Rebel malignancy and Presidential interference. Their representatives will appear in the National Legislature, and in November next these reconstructed States will help to swell the popular triumph in the election of a Republican President.

THE "Democratic" candidate for Governor of North Carolina, Z. B. VANCE while Rebel Governor of that State in 1863, in addressing a Rebel regiment, appealed to them in this style:

> "Boys, fight till hell freezes over, and then fight on the ice."—"fight until you fill hell so full of Yankees that their feet will stick out of the windows," &c.

VANCE ought to be a delegate to the New York Convention of July 4th next; and most probably will be.

THE unsettled condition of Europe results in continued immigration to this country. During 1867 about 330,000 foreigners came to the United States. Each immigrant is estimated, on an average, to add $1,000 a year to the productive wealth of the country. So that the contribution made annually by immigration to our taxable wealth is about $330,000,000.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ELECTION.

Last week, in a brief telegram, we were able to announce the glorious triumph in New Hampshire. For some years the State has been closely contested, the Copperheads carrying it in 1863 by 3,798, while LINCOLN, amid the popular whirlwind of 1864, secured the State by only 3,560 majority. Last year the Republican majority went down to 3,146. As the opening State election of 1868, and in so far to be regarded as an index of popular feeling, the New Hampshire election assumed a national importance, and on all sides the result was to be accepted as an answer to the Impeachment of ANDREW JOHNSON. The Copperhead leaders, backed by the whole power and enormous patronage of the Administration, went into the contest assured of victory. An enormous fund was raised, with which to debauch voters. DOOLITTLE, BLAIR, DEAN, and other noted Copperhead orators, traversed the State, denouncing Congress, predicting national ruin, and demanding an emphatic rebuke of Republican policy. Their State Committee and orators everywhere predicted that the State would go Democratic by for 1,000 to 5,000. The gallant Republicans of New Hampshire accepted the challenge thus tendered, and went courageously to work, despite the heavy odds against them. Conscious that their election had assumed a national importance, and that the loyal men of the Republic looked with anxiety to the result, they worked steadily and manfully, until glorious victory crowned their efforts. The vote polled is the largest ever cast, rising 77,000. HARRIMAN, (Republican) is elected Governor by about 2,500 majority. The House of Representatives will stand 192 Republicans to 138 Copperheads. All honor to the Granite State!

IT is pretty evident that no practical Free Railroad law is to be enacted at this session of the Legislature. The Monopoly holds control of the Senate, which insists on the impractical provisions designed to kill the measure under pretence of yielding to the popular will. The House is powerless, and thus far the Committee of Conference has been unable to effect anything. There is evidently a "ring" in the Senate, in the interest of existing monopolies, and the promptness with which all efforts to get rid of these impractical provisions were voted down shows that this "ring" has the Senate at its command. We have not yet been able to come across the Yeas and Nays, which, however, will yet be brought to light. The people want light on this subject, and WILL HAVE IT.

JOHN A. BROOKS, of Webster county, Kentucky, was last fall elected to the Legislature of that State as a "Conservative." He received six hundred majority. He could not "swallow" the dose prepared for him by the Rebel Democracy of that State; and has declared his durpose to act hereafter with the Republicans.

Hon. WM. H. WADSWORTH, of the same State, a brilliant member of the 37th Congress, has come out squarely for the Republicans, and has been named as one of the GRANT electors at large. He was a Union man throughout the War, but not heretofore a Republican. He can't train under Rebels.

AN unfounded rumor of the death of Hon. THADDEUS STEVENS had general circulation in Baltimore on Saturday night. The Washington Chronicle of Sunday, alluding to the rumor, says: "It is proper to state that the health of Hon. Thaddeus Stevens has not within the last two days been worse than usual, except that on Friday evening he was troubled with a cough. At a late hour last night he was feeling quite comfortable." Mr. S. was in his seat on Monday.

GENERAL GRANT, in his boyhood, is said to have evinced a remarkable aptitude for the management of horses.—His recent experience with President JOHNSON proves him equally successful in the management of mules. So says the St. Paul Press.

NEWS OF NEIGHBORING COUNTIES.

CARROLL.—H. Vanderford & Son, of Delaware, have purchased the Westminister Democrat.—John Orendorff, brakesman on the railroad, fell from the train near Wakefield station, on the 4th ult., the cars crushing both legs. It was decided to amputate, but the sufferer died during the operation.

FREDERICK.—Peter Beard, a respectable farmer, aged 60 years, residing about 3 miles from Frederick, was killed by a vicious bull last week. While on his way to the barn, to feed the cattle, he was attacked by the bull, knocked down, and trampled, crushing in his ribs and causing death in an hour after.

FRANKLIN.—The sale of Col. McClure's blooded stock takes place to day.—On the 28th ult. Peter Burroughs died sudddenly near Orrstown, aged 82 years. He seemed in usual health when he retired, but in the morning was found dead in bed.

WASHINGTON.—Samuel Strite, of Clearspring district, last week sold at public sale several cows, which brought $130 a piece.

REPORTED TROUBLE IN TENNESSEE.—Despatches from Washington say that on Saturday General Grant received a brief despatch from General Thomas, stating that the enemies of the present State Government in Tennessee were organizing for resistance to laws, and to get control of the State. Gen. Thomas asked for immediate instructions.—His telegram to General Grant assured the latter that these statements were certainly founded upon positive movements of the Rebels. Without delay General Grant telegraphed to general Thomas to use all the force at his command to preserve the peace and protect the State authorities in their execution of the laws to the fullest extent, and to report if more troops were needed.

PRIZE FIGHTS TO COME OFF.—April 1st, Barney Aaron and Patsey Sheppard, $5,000, at 120 pounds. April 20th, Dick Holliwood and Johnny Keating, $5,000 and the feather-weight championship, at catch-weight. May 27th, Joe Coburn and Mike McCoole, $10,000, and the championship of America. August 24th, Sam. Collyer and Billy Edward, $2,000, open for more, and the light-weight championship, at 124 pounds. Mike McCoole has decided not to fight Allen before his fight with Coburn, but offers to fight him in sixty or ninety days afterwards.

MORE "DEMOCRACY."—A writer in the Lexington (Ky.) Gazette advocates the election of Gen. John S. Williams, of "Confederate" fame, to the office of Commonwealth's Attorney of the Lexington District, on the ground, among other things, of his services to the Confederacy during the war. The writer says his victory over the federal troops at Saltville should elect him to any office in the State.

ATTORNEY General Stansbery has resigned in order to assist in the defence of the President at the bar of the Senate.

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

GRANT AND CURTIN.

HARTRANFT AND CAMPBELL RENOMINATED.

The Republican State Convention met in Philadelphia, on Wednesday last, in the Academy of Music—every county in the State being represented. The Convention was called to order by Col. FRANK JORDAN, Chairman of the State Central Committee, when Col. WM. B. MANN, of Philadelphia, was elected temporary Chairman. Col. JORDAN and Col. MANN both made eloquent speeches, urging harmony of action and predicting a glorious triumph of Republicanism in November.

Committees on permanent organization and resolutions, composed of one delegate from each Senatorial district, were appointed, D. O. GEHR, of this district, being on the Committee on Organization, and A. J. COVER on the Committee on Resolutions.

The Committee on Organization made report as follows:

President—General Lemuel Todd.

Vice Presidents—General C. H. T. Collis, Charles M. Carpenter, Henry Bumm, Wm. J. P. White, Gen. Wm. Mintzer, Charles K. McDonald, Henry J. Darlington, E. G. Winn, John G. Kauffman, Gen. H. L. Cake, Hon. John Strouse, William J. Turrell, Major Ackerly, S. Levi Rook, Col. Samuel Knorr, Samuel T. Barr, Jacob G. Peters, Capt. Charles Devines, J. Frazer, A. J. Cover, Major D. Washabaugh, Gen. James A. Beaver, Milton S. Lytle, C. D. Roberts, B. J. Reid, Gen. J. H. Wells, Joseph Walton, Joseph A. Butler, John C. Boyle, James T. McOukin, George K. Anderson, D. V. Derickson, John L. Dale.

Secretaries—Captain B. W. Morgan, J. H. Sturdevant, William R. Leeds, A. G. Henry, A. K. Stauffer, Col. William C. Gray, Wm. S. Moore.

Gen. TODD, on taking the Chair, addressed the Convention in an earnest and eloquent speech in vindication of the principles and policy of the Republican party, when the Convention proceeded to ballot for candidates for President and Vice President.

GEN. GRANT was unanimously nominated as the choice of the Republicans of Pennsylvania for President, amid the wildest cheering by the delegates and the audience.

Gov. GEARY and Ex-Speaker GROW withdrew their names as candidates for Vice President, when the roll of delegates was called with the following result:—ANDREW G. CURTIN 109; BENJAMIN F. WADE 22; EDWIN M. STANTON 1. Messrs. McClure and Cover of this district voted for Curtin.

Governor CURTIN having received a majority of the votes cast, was declared the nominee of the Convention.

General J. F. HARTRANFT was then unanimously nominated for re-election as Auditor General, and Gen. J. M. CAMPBELL for Surveyor General—both without the formality of a ballot.

THOMAS E. COCHRAN, Esq., of York, from the Committee on Resolutions, submitted the following:

Resolved, That the great Republican party of America, without which the rebellion against the Government would have consummated the division of the Union and perpetuated human slavery with the aid, comfort, and full approval of the present Democratic party, is in the fore-front of another peril and another trial. Electing its candidate for President in 1860, and re-electing him in 1864, it is now called upon to decide whether all the sacrifices of blood and treasure have not only been in vain but were simply contributions for the restoration of treason under the influence of a man who, clothed in the confidence of his country, is prevented from overthrowing the Government solely by the wise and patriotic stand taken by a loyal Congress.

Resolved, That we add our voice to the loud acclaim in favor of Ulysses S. Grant as the Republican candidate for President of the United States; and in so doing we feel that we are not simply responding to the wishes of our constituents or helping to pay a portion of the debt we owe to that great soldier, but that we are preparing the way for that substantial triumph which, while perpetuating the Republican party, preserves and perpetuates the Republican creed.

Resolved, That no contrast so eloquent could be presented as that between the loud profession of Andrew Johnson, and the silent patriotism of Ulysses S. Grant; that as the one deals in acts that convince, and that while Johnson has fallen rapidly away from his many voluntary covenants, Grant has asserted equal justice and Radical Republicanism, as a part alike of conscience and of duty.

Resolved, That by the election of General Grant to the Presidency, all domestic dissension and factious opposition to the complete reconstruction of the Union on the firm foundations laid by the wise and judicious legislation of Congress will be immediately suppressed and harmony and good feeling restored—settled relations of business established, and the revival and improvement of all the disturbed sources of national wealth and prosperity will be secured, when it is once made manifest that the people of this country are firmly fixed in the determination that the fruits of the late bloody and obstinate struggle shall not be lost, and that the factions and rebellious resistance to the laws shall be as effectually overthrown as was the military hostility which attempted to subvert the Government by savage cruelty, rapine, and murder.

Resolved, That Pennsylvania proudly tenders to the loyal people of the Union Andrew G. Curtin, her great war Governor, the soldier's friend, and the chivalrous impersonation of the patriotic spirit of her people, as a candidate for Vice President of the United States, and solemnly pledges her faith to maintain his nomination, with that of the illustrious Grant, by the suffrages of an overwhelming majority of her freemen at the polls. That Gov. Curtin's untiring efforts to sustain the General Government at every crisis of the sanguinary struggle; his sagacity in providing a force in the gallant corps of Pennsylvania Reserves, which averted the consequences of the prime great disaster, and gained the first victory of the war; his effectual exertions which placed more than three hundred thousand of the sons of Pennsylvania in the field to defend the nation's life and crush the poisoned serpent of treason, and his constant care for the comfort, relief, and protection of the soldiers in the field, their families at home, and the widows and orphans of those who gave their lives a sacrifice for their country, have made him the favorite of his native State, and must commend him to the love and admiration of the loyal people of the whole land.

Resolved, That to the Congress of the United States is eminently due the tribute of praise and gratitude for the beneficent measures which it has adopted to reconstruct the States lately in rebellion, and to check Executive usurpation by ultimately putting the President on trial by the High Court of Impeachment provided by the Constitution.

Resolved, That we earnestly call upon the Senate of the United States, sitting as a Court of Impeachment, to proceed without fear, favor, or affection, and that the people of Pennsylvania will stand by and maintain the just judgment of the laws.

Resolved, That the soldiers and sailors of the Union, who fought and conquered armed rebellion in the field, and stand true to the principles which they vindicated and the flag which floated over them and led them to victory, are entitled to the undying gratitude of all loyal people, and as they saved the country by their toils, sufferings, and sacrifices, they have incontestible claims to the highest honors of the nation.

Resolved, That we tender our most cordial thanks to the Hon. Edwin M. Stanton for the firmness, courage, and patriotism with which he has maintained the majesty of the law and the rights of the people against the attempted invasions of a faithless Executive and his purchased instruments.

Resolved, That we cordially endorse the administration of State affairs by Governor John W. Geary, in which he has proved himself efficient in the cabinet as in the field, an able and successful statesman since the war as he was an able and successful soldier during the war, and that he merits the confidence of the people of Pennsylvania, and we pledge him the continued support of the Republican party of the State.

Resolved, That as experience is alike the best instructor of men and nations, so the experience of the rebellion has given us renewed confidence in the pledges and precepts of the Declaration of Independence, and that with these as our guiding stars the Republican party must always succeed.

Resolved, That in John F. Hartranft and Col. Jacob M. Campbell, our nominees for re- [illegible] important S[illegible] o[illegible] and Survey[illegible] soldiers who [illegible] gallant "Boys in Blu[illegible] strife against rebels in a[illegible] themselves [illegible] upright officers in time of peace; and we confidently commend them to the suffrages of a people who have not forgotten to be grateful to the defenders of the life of the nation, and who love to honor those who exposed themselves in toil and trial, in camp and bivouac, on the weary march and the imminent front of the battle, that the people might be safe, and the country free and united.

Resolved, That every American citizen, whether by birth or adoption, is entitled to the protection of the nation and its flag; and while it is incumbent on the Government to initiate negotiations for the establishment of an international law of expatriation, recognizing naturalization by one nation as terminating the allegiance due to another, and confering all rights of citizenship, it is no less its duty to vindicate its people of all classes from oppression or interference at home and abroad, when in the legitimate and peaceable exercise of their legal or personal rights.

Resolved, That the public debt, incurred for the purpose of preserving the existence of the nation, is a sacred obligation, binding the people to its payment in the utmost good faith, and to the full extent of its legal requirements; and that the greatest prudence, judgment, and skill are requisite, and should, as far as attainable, be employed at once to maintain the public faith and credit, and render the burden, of which no loyal citizen should complain, as light as practicable upon the productive industry of the country and the wages and proceeds of the labor.

Resolved, That it is the dictate of the soundest policy, as well as of the greatest wisdom, that the domestic industry of the country should be sustained and protected against foreign competition by adequate tariff laws, and that in whatever particulars the existing laws on the subject are defective, they should be amended and made efficient for that purpose, as well as for the purpose of raising revenue for the Government.

Resolved, That the purity of the ballot-box should be carefully guarded as of vital importance to the best interests of the country, and that this Convention deem a just and impartial registry law to be necessary to protect us from the astounding frauds which have heretofore been perpetrated.

Resolved, That the delegates from Pennsylvania to the National Republican Convention, to be held in the city of Chicago in the ensuing month of May, be, and they are hereby, instructed to cast their vote as a unit, through their chairman, in favor of Ulysses S. Grant for President, and Andrew G. Curtin for Vice President, they being the distinctly-declared choice of the people in this State for those positions, and that the right of substituting for absent delegates shall rest solely with the delegates from the State.

The Resolutions were all unanimously adopted, except the last, which, after some discussion, was adopted—yeas 89, nays 40.—Col. MCCLURE then submitted the following:

Resolved, That a committe of one from each Congressional district be appointed by the Chair to report, for the approval of this Convention, delegates to the Republican National Convention, and electors for the State, and that said committee be instructed to accept district delegates already chosen by action of the districts, who will in good faith and by cordial, earnest effort, carry out the instructions of the Republican people of Pennsylvania, in Chicago, as expressed here overwhelmingly by this Convention.

Pending the discussion of this resolution, the Convention adjourned to 7 P. M., when its consideration was resumed—the friends of Gov. Curtin claiming that as he was the evident choice of the State, he was entitled to a unanimous vote of the Pennsylvania delegation at Chicago. The resolution was finally adopted by a vote of 81 to 47.

The Committee appointed under this resotion retired and subsequently reported the following list of Electors and delegates to Chicago:

GRAND RATIFICATION MEETINGS.

An immense Mass meeting was held in Concert Hall, on Wednesday evening, to ratify the proceedings of the State Convention, which was addressed by Gen. Prevost, Hon. John Covode, Hon. James Campbell, and others.

Another monster Mass meeting was held on Thursday evening in the Academy of Music, under the auspices of the Union League. Every seat in the immense building was filled, and all the space where human beings could stand was occupied. The staging was handsomely decorated with National Flags and large portraits of Washington, Lincoln, Hamlin, Grant, Curtin, and Geary; and above the stage in letters of fire the names of Lincoln, Grant, Curtin, Farragut, and Sheridan.

Mayor McMichael President, assisted by a large number of Vice Presidents and Secretaries, representating the solid men of Philadelphia. Stirring speeches were made by Mayor McMichael, Senator Nye, Hon. Galusha A. Grow, Hon. A. K. McClure, and Gov. Curtin. The latter, in eloquent words, pledged himself, in the coming campaign, "to take the standard of the Republican party, and inscribing on it in letters of living light the great principles upon which our hopes are [illegible]sed, [illegible] it on the [illegible] and c[illegible]y it before the people [illegible] Pennsylva[illegible] to [illegible] Delaware."

The meeting adjourned with enthusiastic cheers for GRANT, CURTIN, and [illegible].

Among the resolutions adopted was one declaring that "Gen. Grant is the best of radicals and the best of conservatives. Radical when treason and wrong are to be uprooted; conservative when union, liberty and right are to be preserved. God bless him!"

THE IMPEACHMENT.

ANSWER TO THE SUMMONS.

CONTINUANCE TO MONDAY NEXT.

The Senate met again on Friday last as a Court of Impeachment, Chief Justice CHASE presiding, to receive the return to the summons issued to the President to appear and answer the impeachment preferred against him. The President did not respond in person, but was represented by his recent Attorney General, Hon. Henry Stanbery; Judge B. R. Curtis, of Massachusetts, and Hon. Thos. A. R. Nelson, of Tennessee. Hons. Jeremiah Black, of Pennsylvania, and Wm. M. Evarts, of New York, are also understood to be the President's advisers, but they were not present. The managers on the part of the House of Representatives, with the great majority of the members of that body, were in attendance. Mr. Stanbery, after "Andrew Johnson" had been several times called upon to "appear and answer the charges made against him," read an answer from the President to the summons, in which the names of his counsel were recited, and forty days (to about the first of May) were asked in which to allow him to prepare his answer to the articles of impeachment against him. This was supported by a petition, signed by his counsel, making the same request.

Messrs. Bingham and Wilson, of the Managers of Impeachment, contended that, under the rules adopted by the Senate for the government of the trial, when the accused appeared he appeared for trial, and not for an extension of time. Messrs. Stanbery, Nelson and Curtis opposed this construction of the rules, and considerable debate ensued. Senate Edmunds proposed that the President be allowed to the first of April to prepare his case, instead of giving him forty days, and on motion of Senate Morton, the Senators, accompanied by the Chief Justice, retired to determine the question.

After an absence of over two hours, the Court returned. Chief Justice Chase informed the counsel for the President that the Senate had declined to grant the forty days' delay asked, and had adopted an order requesting the President to file his answer on or before the 23rd of March. Mr. Bingham then offered a resolution declaring that "upon the filling of a replication by the Managers of the House of Representatives to the answer of the President to the articles exhibited against him by the House, the trial of said articles of impeachment shall proceed forthwith. This was rejected—yeas twenty-five, nays twenty-six.—Mr. Wade did not vote. Several propositions looking to the fixing the time for the trial to commence were offered, and after considerable debate a resolution offered by Mr. Conkling, "that unless otherwise ordered, the trial of the pending impeachment shall proceed immediately after the replication to the answer shall be filed," was adopted by a vote of forty yeas to ten nays. During the debate Mr. Bingham stated on the part of the Managers that their replication would be filed within a day or two after the President presented his answer to the articles of impeachment.

It is said the President and his friends regard the action of the Senate refusing to accede to the request for forty days' delay as unfavorable, and rumors are again current as to his being advised to resign and thus prevent the disabilities consequent on conviction.—His counsel are engaged in preparing affidavits from different sources to be presented next Monday, when the case comes up again, declaring that it will be impossible to obtain the necessary evidence to proceed without further delay, and the Senate will probably grant a further extension of ten days.

THE LATEST.

The general situation is unchanged from last week.

The impression about Washington is deepening, that the PRESIDENT'S conviction and removal are inevitable.

This is the candid judgment of both friends and foes.

I have recently heard from two different sources, that one of the most eminent of the PRESIDENT'S counsel has substantially abandoned all hope of acquittal.—The others doubtless sympathize in this apprehension—the PRESIDENT'S record, made up by himself, being conclusive as to his deliberate and purposed violation of law.

GENERAL NEWS.

WILLIAM COLE, an Irishman, died in Hartford, Sunday evening, nearly 111 years old. He was never sick, married three times and had nineteen children.

GENERAL Hancock has been ordered from New Orleans to Washington by the President. There is considerable speculation as to President's object in this move.

A SOCIETY of Mormons, numbering about fifty, including "young men and maidens," has been organized in Newark, N. J., with the intention of emigrating to Utah in the summer.

THE vote in South Carolina, on the ratification of the new Constitution and for the election of State officers and members of the Legislature, will take place on the 14th, 15th and 16th of April.

THE cattle disease has made its appearance in West Virginia, and the farmers of Jefferson county are already beginning to suffer from its ravages. In the neighborhood of Charlestown quite a large number of fine cattle have died, and the plague seems to be spreading.

IF the President needs support at his forthcoming trial, he has only to give out that he is to be arraigned at the bar of the Senate. The Democracy will go through a line of bayonets to range themselves by the side of a bar. —Chicago Post.

A WISCONSIN Copperhead editor is described in a city contemporary as "a though, radical, loyal Democrat." What a pity that Barnum's Museum burned down before this rara avis was caged!—Chicago Post.

SEVENTEEN-YEAR LOCUSTS.—The Centerville (Md.) Observer says that this is the year for the reappearance of the seventeen-year locusts. These insects made their first chronicled appearance here in Maryland in 1799, and returned every seventeen years after that time. They last appeard in 1851, of which many of our readers doubtless have a distinct recollection.

BRAVE old Ethan Allen was the first leading man to recognize the preeminent authority of Congress as above that of President, Governors, or Generals. When he called on the British commander at Ticonderoga early in the morning of the 10th of May, 1775, he demanded the surrender of the fort in the name of the "Great Jehovah and the Continental Congress."

Boils

Like the volcano, Boils give issue to the foul and fiery contents of the [illegible]. To remove the cause of such suffering it is only necessary to vitalize the Blood by supplying it with its Life Element, IRON

THE PERUVIAN SYRUP,

(a protected solution of the Protoxide of Iron) will do this effectually, and give strength, vigor and new life to the whole system.

Extract of a letter from REV. RICHARD S. EDES, of Bolton, Mass.

"For years I was a sufferer from Boils, so that my life became wearisome through their frequent and persistent recurrence; finally a carbuncle formed in the small of my back. During its progress large pieces of decomposed flesh were every day or two cut away, and the prostration and general disturbance of the system were great. Before I had recovered from this attack two smaller carbuncles broke out higher up, and I was again threatened with a recurrence of the sufferings to which I had so long been subjected. It was at this time that I commenced taking the PERUVIAN SYRUP. I continued taking it until I had used five bottles; since then I have had nothing of the kind. For years I was one of the greatest sufferers. Other medicines gave partial and temporary relief, but this remarkable remedy, with a kind and intuitive sense, went directly to the root of the evil, and did its work with a thoroughness worthy of its established character."

ADDRESS TO THE NERVOUS and debilitated whose sufferings have been protracted from hidden causes, and whose cases require prompt treatment to render existence desirable. If you are suffering or have suffered from involuntary discharges, what effect does it produce upon your general health? Are you weak, debilitated, easily tired? Does a little extra exertion produce palpitation of the heart? Does your liver, or urinary organs, or your kidneys, frequently get out of order? Is your urine sometimes thick, milky, or flocky, or is it ropy on settling?—Or does a thick scum rise to the top? Or is a sediment at the bottom after it has stood awhile? Do you have spells of short breathing or dyspepsia? Are your bowels constipated? Do you have spells of fainting or rushes of blood to the head? Is your memory impaired? Is your mind constantly dwelling upon this subject? Do you feel dull, listless, moping, tired of company, of life? Do you wish to be left alone, to get away from everybody? Does any little thing make you start or jump? Is your sleep broken or restless? Is the lustre of your eye as brilliant? The bloom on your cheek as bright? Do you enjoy yourself in society as well? Do you pursue your business with the same energy? Do you feel as much confidence in yourself? Are your spirits dull and flagging, given to fits of melancholy? If so, do not lay it to your liver or dyspepsia. Have you restless nights?—Your back weak, your knees weak, and have but little appetite, and you attribute this to dyspepsia or liver-complaint?

Now, reader, self-abuse, venereal diseases badly cured, and sexual excesses, are all capable of producing a weakness of the generative organs. The organs of generation, when in perfect health, make the man. Did you ever think that those bold, defiant, energetic, persevering, successful business-men are always those whose generative organs are in perfect health? You never hear such men complain of being melancholy, of nervousness, of palpitation of the heart. They are never afraid they cannot succeed in business; they don't become sad and discouraged; they are always polite and pleasant in the company of ladies, and look you and them right in the face—none of your downcast looks or any other meanness about them. I do not mean those who keep the organs inflamed by running to excess. These will not only ruin their constitutions, but also those they do business with or for.

How many men from badly-cured diseases, from the effects of self-abuse and excesses, have brought about that state of weakness in those organs that has reduced the general system so much as to induce almost every other disease—idiocy, lunacy, paralysis, spinal affections, suicide, and almost every other form of disease which humanity is heir to, and the real cause of the trouble scarcely ever suspected, and have doctored for all but the right one.

Diseases of these organs require the use of a diuretic.—HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic, and is a certain cure for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, Dropsy, Organic Weakness, Female Complaints, General Debility, and all diseases of the Urinary Organs, whether existing in Male or Female, from whatever cause originating and no matter of how long standing.

If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity may ensue. Our flesh and blood are supported from these sources, and the health and happiness, and that of Posterity, depends upon prompt use of a reliable remedy.

REVENUE TAXES.—The attention of those concerned is directed to an advertisement in regard to Revenue Tax assessments, by Hon. Wm. McSherry, District Assessor, in another column. Appeals from erroneous assessments will be received until the 26th instant.

ELECTED.—The Rev. E. V. GERHART, D. D., of Lancaster, has been elected by the General Synod of the German Reformed Church, to fill the chair of Didactic Theology in the Mercersburg Theological Seminary, made vacant by the death of Rev. Dr. HARBAUGH. Prof. GERHART was formerly Pastor of the German Reformed Church in this place, and is a gentleman of marked ability.

UNION DEPOT.—A bill has been reported in the State Senate authorizing the Hanover Branch, Littlestown and Gettysburg Railroad Companies to establish a union depot in Hanover. This is a capital idea, which we hope will be put through. At present, the transfer of passengers at the depot in Hanover, often amid rain and mud, is a nuisance, of which there is constant complaint. The erection of a joint depot by the three companies will cure the evil.

COUNTERFEIT 25 CENT NOTES.—A large number of these notes are in circulation. They are the best executed counterfeits of this denomination yet manufactured, and are calculated to deceive the most careful money takers. The bogus currency may be known by the paper being a trifle lighter. The vignette of Fessenden is, at first glance, fully as correct as the genuine, but a close scrutiny shows that it is a good wood cut and not a steel engraving.

SUDDEN DEATH.—On Friday night last, about 8 o'clock, Mrs. FRANCIS H., wife of JAMES E. FLAHARTY, of this place, while attending to ordinary domestic duties, complained of dizziness in the head and proposed to retire. While disrobing herself, she fell to the floor speechless. Dr. O'NEAL was immediately called in, but after lingering until 4 o'clock, A. M. Mrs. FLAHARTY died. We understand she had been in usual health until this sudden paralytic attack, having partaken of a hearty supper. She was 44 years of age.

AN INTERESTING LETTER.—In our Agricultural Department, on 4th page, will be found another of D. P. F.'s interesting letters—the subject treated of being the new Cattle Disease, Pleura Pneumonia, &c. As these letters have commanded a good deal of attention, in and out of the county, for their well matured thought and practical suggestions, we deem it due to the author of them, to say that the writer is Mr. DAVID P. FORNEY, an intelligent practical Farmer, residing in Conowago township. He has our thanks for his contributions, which, we trust, will be continued, and would be glad to hear from other practical farmers on kindred topics.

COL. McCLURE'S LECTURE.—Hon. A. K. McCLURE, of Chambersburg, will deliver his Lecture on Mormonism, in Agricultural Hall, on Monday evening next, the 23d inst. Col. McCLURE is a good talker, a sharp observer, and an unusually interesting lecture may be expected. This is the last opportunity our people will have to hear him, as in May he leaves for Colorado Territory, which will be his future residence.—Single Tickets 35 cents—to be had at the stores of A. D. BUEHLER, R. HORNER, and M. SPANGLER.

The remaining Lectures of the course will be delivered by Prof. KIDD, of Cincinnati, March 31, and by Rev. Dr. TALLMAGE, April 7.

M. E. CHURCH.—The East Baltimore Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church met in Baltimore on Wednesday last. On Friday the Committee, to whom the much agitated question of Lay representation had been referred, submitted the following report, which was adopted:

"Whereas the subject of lay delegations has for many years agitated the church; and whereas it was submitted by the General Conference of 1860 to a vote of the male members over twenty-one years of age, and to the Annual Conference; and, whereas it was disapproved by a decided majority vote of the male members and ministers, and notwithstanding, the subject continues to be agitated by the friends of the measure; and as the introduction of lay delegations into the General and Annual Conferences, or into the General Conference alone, is an organic change which has been considered by some of the best minds of the church in the laity and ministers of doubtful expediency; therefore

"Resolved by the East Baltimore Conference, in Conference assembled, That we will consent to lay delegations being incorporated in the discipline of the church when the General Conference shall present a well-defined and feasible plan, which shall be submitted to our ministers and members, male and female, for their adoption or rejection, as a majority of their votes may determine."

Revs. Henry Slicer, Thompson Mitchell, Joseph France, B. H. Creever, John H. T. Dosh, W. L. Spottswell, and T. Barnhart, were elected delegates to the General Conference which assembles in Chicago in May next.

The Committee, to whom had been referred the proposition to divide the Conference made an adverse report which was adopted by a large Majority. Danville, Pa., was selected for the next annual meeting.

Rev. J. B. MANN has been appointed Agent to prosecute the movement for the erection of the Gettysburg Memorial Church.

Among the appointments made by the Baltimore Conference South, which has also been in session in Baltimore, we notice that of Rev. ELIAS WELTY for Hagerstown.

Rev. S. M. L. CONSOR, of the Baltimore Conference North, goes to Fairfax, Va.

ACCIDENT.—As Mr. THOMAS GRAHAM was passing over the bridge which crosses the Bermudian, at the York Springs, on Friday, 13th inst., with ten head of horses, the bridge gave way, precipitating Mr. GRAHAM, and a young man with him, and all of his stock, into the stream, which, at the time, was full of floating ice. The horses becoming unmanageable, several of them were severely injured. The young man with Mr. GRAHAM was badly hurt. The bridge was in a very dangerous condition, the middle pier having been taken away by the ice, leaving the span, 64 feet long, unsupported. Mr. GRAHAM, being a stranger, was not aware of the condition of the bridge. We are told that the managers of the turnpike had been notified of the fact, but left it in this unsafe condition, thereby risking life and property.

TO HOUSE-KEEPERS.—Young folks and others, who are preparing to go to housekeeping this spring, will do well to make a call at Col. C. H. BUEHLER'S Ware-rooms, near the Depot, Gettysburg, Pa., where, in addition to a large variety of the most approving COOKING STOVES, Sitting Room and Chamber Stoves, can be found a very large assortment of every kind of TIN-WARE, Hollow-Ware, Japan Ware, Toilet and Chamber Sets, Bread and Spice Boxes, Tea and Coffee Canisters, Waiters, Coffee Mills, Water Coolers, Spittoons, Pudding Moulds, Flour Seeves, Candle Sticks, Smoothing Irons, Egg Beaters, Fruit Cans, Jelly Moulds, and a thousand other articles in the house-keeping line—all of which will be sold at lowest cash prices. Has Nature an antidote for acquired diseases? The PLANTATION BITTERS, prepared by Dr. Drake, of New York, have no doubt benefited and cured more persons of Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Sour Stomach, Loss of Appetite, Sinking Weakness, General Debility, and Mental Despondency, than any other article in existence. They are composed of the purest roots and herbs, carefully prepared, to be taken as a tonic and gentle stimulant. They are adapted to any age or condition of life, and are extensively popular with mothers and persons of sedentary habits.

CATTLE DISEASE.

The Hanover Spectator has given currency to a report that an alarming and fatal cattle disease was prevailing in parts of York and Adams counties, and, that fears were entertained that it might be the dreaded Rinderpest. The wisdom of publishing reports of this character, without going into the details of the matter, admits of serious doubt, especially at this season of the year. Much of the farm-stock of the country is being sold at this time, with the sale of which such reports may seriously interfere, whether the facts of the case may justify it or not. Added to this, there are many hundreds of cattle fattened every year in these counties for the city market, in regard to which, any suspicions of this character might prove the cause of much trouble.

The facts in the matter, so far as Adams county is concerned, are the following: The disease has appeared upon one farm—that occupied by Mr. Bollinger, near New Oxford. I visited the farm after I learned of its existence there, and heard the facts from Mr. Bollinger himself. Late in the fall he bought a cow out of a lot of dry cows brought from one of the dairies in or near Baltimore, which he intended to fatten for beef. After feeding her for about four weeks, she began to show symptoms of sickness, and gradually grew worse untill she died. After this, two more sickened and died in like manner. These three received little or no medical treatment. After these, four more were attacked. These received medical treatment and recovered.

In York county, it appeared on two farms—that of Mr. Shue below Hanover about six miles, and that of Mr. Price, in Jackson township. In both cases it was introduced by cattle bought from the same drove as that of Mr. Bollinger, and in no case has it appeared where not thus introduced.

The symptoms of the disease are, first, languor and dullness, with loss of appetite, accompanied with a painful cough; then costiveness, with dry mouth, nostrils, and the usual febrile symptoms. Difficulty of breathing follows, which terminates in suffocation and death. But one of the four cows diseased, which I saw, seemed to have diarrhœa. She seemed sicker than the other three.

The post mortem examination revealed extensive inflammation of the lungs and pleura (the membrane lining the chest), with adhesions of the former to the latter, and the former covered with gangrene. No other parts seemed much affected by the disease.

These facts reveal plainly the character of the disease. It is inflammation of the lungs and pleura, the scientific name of which is Pleura Pneumonia. Of this disease there are two forms: simple Pleura Pneumonia and Epizo-otic Pleura Pneumonia—the latter a fearful and terrible scourge to the land it visits. The latter form has never appeared in this country to the alarming extent to which it has appeared in Continental Europe and in England. A few years ago the State of Massachusetts was threatened with its ravages; but the prompt action of the authorities arrested its progress. Of its appearance here at this time there seems to be no danger, as the conditions necessary to its development evidently do not exist, or it would have spread from the localities where introduced, instead of which it has now almost disappeared from them.

There are some facts in this connection which deserve serious consideration. In the first place, the trade in stock of this kind should be the subject of rigid official investigation. Whether the cattle brought here were diseased before coming here, or whether they were brought from a stable in which the disease existed, I have no means of knowing; but, certain it is, that a disease of this kind has existed for a year or more in the dairies in and around Baltimore, and no one has ever heard of any public action being taken in regard to it. It is also said to have appeared at many points along the roads from here to that place, and in some portions of Pennsylvania near Philadelphia—yet no one gives it any concern. The only way to prevent its spread is by "stamping it out"—that is, the appointment of a commission by the State to examine the cases, destroy and bury all diseased cattle, and remunerate their owners from the public treasury. Massachusetts did this, and Pennsylvania and Maryland might profitably follow her example, if their respective legislators could spare time enough from their party strife to look after the welfare of their constituents. When this disease first appeared in England, it was looked upon with the same apathy by the rulers there as it now is here. Even men like Youatt hesitated in deciding whether it was contagious or not; but subsequent events gave a terrible decision to that question and compelled them to call it "The Epizo-otic."

The diffusion of reliable information in regard to the symptoms and treatment of this disease would also be of much service to the agricultural community. This disease has been introduced into Bucks county from Philadelphia in the same manner as here. The Agricultural Society of that county has appointed a medical gentleman to investigate the progress of the disease at the Society's expense. This is a step in the right direction. I addressed a note to the Corresponding Secretary of the Society in order to learn something about the matter. I herewith send you his reply, which you are at liberty to publish.

D. P. F.

Attleboro' Bucks co., Penn.,
2d Month, 27, 1868.

David P. Forney, Esq.—

Respected Friend:—Thy favor, under date of the 18th last, is at hand—contents noted. In reference to the disease called Pleura Pneumonia, or Cattle Epidemic, I think I can safely say that it does not exist in our county to any very alarming extent—scarcely a case having come to my knowledge where proper care is taken of the cattle. But there have been several cases among farmers who have been in the habit of frequently changing their stock by buying of dealers who buy at the drove-yards in Philadelphia, or wherever else they can buy, as they consider, to advantage. Plenty of good food, shelter, and proper care are among the best safeguards against the disease. We have in our village here an eminent Veterinary Surgeon, P. M. Mintzer, who has had considerable experience in the treatment of the disease, and kindly furnished me with the following symptoms of the disease, which, for the information of thyself and thy brother farmers I append:

"In the beginning of the disease the animal is in a state of languor and dreariness—generally separates from the flock. If a milch cow, will produce less milk, and it will coagulate very soon. On examining you will find her forelegs wide apart so that the shoulder-blades and elbows protrude outwards from the chest. The head hangs downwards—the eyes appear dull and in tears. The hair stands up bristly, the respiration is short and uneasy, with a heavy movement of flanks and nostrils. From time to time a dull, painful, and oppressed cough, especially when drinking or walking. The appetite may yet be good, but during the progress of the disease the cough increases, becoming shorter, dry and weak, the appetite and rumination disappears, and the milk ceases entirely. She now stands with head and throat erect, the respiration is difficult, with a movement of the ribs and flanks, nostrils wide open, a thick slime flows from the eyes and nose, drinks very little, and diarrhœa appears. The animal in most cases dies in a few days after the diarrhœa sets in, unless checked.

Treatment.—You must bear in mind that this is a typhoid disease, therefore the treatment must be tonics and stimulants. Keep up the appetite of the patient while the disease runs its course, and many may be saved."

Very respectfully thy friend,
PIERSON MITCHELL,
Cor. Sec. Bucks co. Agricult'l Society.

Watches for the Million!

ARRANDALE & CO'S GREAT WATCH CLUB.

EVERYBODY needs a good watch, and wishes to get it at the lowest possible price; a horde of swindlers knowing this have contrived various ingenious devices to get people's money, and then either fail to send a watch, or send one that is worthless as a time-keeper. ARRANDALE & CO. have now perfected arrangements by which, for the small sum of $10, a good and reliable watch may be CERTAINLY obtained. They have formed a GREAT WATCH CLUB on the following plan. Certificates containing the numbers of all the watches named in our wholesale list (which is sent to all applicants) are mixed up, enclosed in envelopes, and sold for 25 cents each.—Every certificate is WARRANTED to be for a watch, and as will be seen on reference to the list, none are of less value than Ten Dollars, whilst some are worth $300.—We undertake to send any watch drawn whatever may be its value for $10, and in order that every one may absolutely depend upon getting a first class time-keeper, we guarantee that every purchaser of One Dollar's worth of certificates shall receive at least one for watch No. 533 on our wholesale list, sent post free, which is a first-class patent lever, a handsome and reliable watch, in sterling silver hunting case, and usually sold for $40. You will certainly get such a watch; and, besides, you may get a Gold Chronometer worth $500. We sell the certificates as follows: One for 25 cents; Three for 50 cents; Six for $1; and Twenty for $3. To those sending $1, we will send a handsome chain gratis. To those sending $3, we will send a gold chain warranted not to tarnish in 20 years.—Parties getting larger clubs will receive liberal presents, particulars of which may be learned on application. As it is our intention to do a strictly honorable business, and to insure our customers from liability to loss, we will send our watches, if desired, without money, instructing the Express agent to collect only on delivery. If we are desired to forward watches by mail the money must be sent us by Bank Draft or Post Office Order, and it will then be at our risk. We will then register the package at our post office, and if lost will re-place it free of charge. If any watch sent is not approved, it may be returned and the money will be refunded. The reputation of our firm, which has been established for five years, and is well known in every part of the country, we trust will be deemed a sufficient guarantee that we will faithfully perform all we contract to do. THE HOWE MACHINE CO.'S SEWING MACHINES,

690 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

These World-renowned Sewing Machines were awarded the Highest Premium at the World's Fair, in London, and six First Premiums at the N. Y. State Fair of 1866, and are celebrated for doing the best work, using a much smaller needle for the same thread than any other machine, and by the introduction of the most approved machinery, we are now able to supply the very best machines in the world.

These machines are made at our new and spacious Factory at Bridgeport, Conn., under the immediate supervision of the President of the Company, ELIAS HOWE, Jr., the original inventor of the Sewing Machine.

They are adapted to all kinds of Family Sewing, and to the use of Seamstresses, Dress Makers, Tailors, Manufacturers of Shirts, Collars, Skirts, Cloaks, Mantillas, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Corsets, Boots, Shoes, Harness, Saddles, Linen Goods, Umbrellas, Parasols, etc. They work equally well upon silk, linen, cotton or woolen goods with silk, cotton or linen thread. They will seam, quilt, gather, hem, fell, cord, braid, bind and perform every species of sewing, making a beautiful and perfect stitch, alike on both sides of the article sewed.

The Stitch invented by Mr. HOWE, and made on this Machine, is the most popular and durable, and all Sewing Machines are subject to the principle invented by him. Send for Circulars.

SEWING MACHINES!

THE GROVER & BAKER.

THE BEST IN USE.—These Machines have become so well known that little need be said by way of recommendation. They have taken the first premium at all the late State Fairs, and are universally acknowledged to be the BEST in use by all who have tried them. The "Grover & Baker Stitch" and the "Shuttle Stitch" are points that have been attained by no other Machine.—They are the only Machines that sew and embroider with perfection. These Machines are peculiarly adapted to Family use. They are almost noiseless, sew directly from the spool without rewinding, and are simple in their construction. They are easy to manage, and can be worked by almost any child. Every family should have one. They save labor, they save time, and they save money, and do their work better than it can be done by hand.

The undersigned having been appointed Agent for the above Machines, has established an Agency in Fairfield, Adams co., where he will always have on hand a supply. Persons wishing to buy will please call and examine for themselves.

THE GREAT CHOLERA PREVENTATIVE.

I.
X. 1866. L.
THE GREAT
Zingari Bitters.

THIS WONDERFUL REMEDY was discovered and introduced about twenty years ago by Dr. S. Cheopsus, an eminent Egyptian physician.

He had long seen and felt the want of some remedy which would strike at the root of disease, and so prevent much of the suffering which the human family was then compelled to endure.

This great question was presented to his mind every day in vivid colors as he moved among the sick and dying, and observed the inefficiency of nearly all the remedies then in use. Thus he was led to think and experiment; and after ten years' study and labor, he presented to his follow-man the wonderful Zingari Bitters. The effect of this preparation in the prevention and cure of disease, was so marvellous and astonishing, that the most flattering marks of royal favor were bestowed upon him who discovered it. His name was placed upon the Roll of Nobles, and a gold medal with the following inscription—Dr. S. Cheopsus, the Public Benefactor—was presented to him by the Viceroy.

The preparation has been used in several epidemics of cholera, both as a preventive and curative measure, and with such great success, that it has been introduced into nearly all the general hospitals of the old world.

The old saying that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, applies with marvellous force to cholera, and therefore any remedy that will protect us against this terrible disease should be freely and persistently used.

All pathologists now agree that the cholera poison acts on the system through the blood, and that any combination which acts on the excretory organs, and keeps them in working order, must prevent a sufficient accumulation of the poison to exert its terrible effects on the organism. This is true not only of cholera, but of nearly all other maladies, especially the different forms of fever.

The Zingari Bitters is just such a remedy as the above conditions require. It acts on the organs of excretion and secretion, keeping up a perfect balance between them. This Bitters is composed entirely of roots and herbs, so nicely concocted that every organ is acted upon and put in tone. Its taste is pleasant and its effects prompt and lasting.

Numerous cases of the following diseases have been cured by it: Cholera, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Scrofula, Typhoid and Typhus Fever, Fever, Ague, Nervous Debility, Anæmia, Female Irregularities, Dyspepsia, Flatulency, Colic, &c.

Price One Dollar per quart Bottle.
